Protest Made on Possible Water Contamination

Coleman Light & Water Co. Protests Against Registration of Subdivision—Will Affect Town's Water Intake, Endangering Public Health.

Regular meeting of council held on Tuesday evening; present Deputy Mayor Atkinson, Councillors White, Atkinson, Kerr and Balloch.

A letter was received from Andrew Gardiner, asking the council to consider further his father's request to be placed on town relief. Mr. Gardiner, senior, will be requested to attend the next council meeting and present his case.

A report from Constable Antel re C. Gildo's request for town relief was discussed and the request granted.

Councillor Atkinson gave notice of motion that he would seek to raise the present town relief schedule of $7.20 to $10.00. This would not affect those persons who are at present on the three-way relief plan. There are only six persons on the present relief roll, which this raise would benefit.

Constable Antel suggested that the Main Street lights be kept on during the night. Some members of the council are anxious to have the back streets lights on from 6 to 7 a.m. during the winter months, to facilitate walking for miners going to work, and Constable Antel was authorized to interview Stewart Murdoch how these lights could be lighted on the one switch. Re complaints caused by short-lived lights in various parts of town, Constable Antel was authorized to purchase special bulbs for an experiment, and if found satisfactory to purchase a supply.

An "unreasonable request" was the answer given the council by Coleman Light & Water Co. in reply to the council's request that a 20% reduction be made on water rates. The company listed several reasons against reducing the rates. The council will forward their letter to the company, and the reply to Auditor E. D. Batrum, who had advised the council to seek the reduction.

A reply from the department of highways to Mayor Pattinson's letter, asking the government to compensate the town for the hard-surfaced highway between Second Street and West Coleman, was a forthright refusal. The council will endeavor to learn the agreements made by the government with towns of Blairmore, Pincher Creek and Macleod.

The secretary was instructed to write an explanatory letter to the Parks Department re conditions prevailing on the recreational ground at the Crow's Nest lake, and asking government to state what action they wanted taken with certain properties on the ground.

A letter was received from Coleman school board, asking to be consulted by the council when the latter sold any property within the town on which school taxes were in arrears. International Coal Co. offered to sell the town a lot back of the Benben residence on Third Street. The lot will be inspected by the works and property committee.

A copy of a letter forwarded to the Department of Health, Edmonton, by International Coal Co. was received by the council. The letter pointed (continued on Page 5)

John Lochrie, World War Veteran, Died Last Thursday

Honored by Comrades of Canadian Legion at Funeral on Sunday—Lived Here Since 1932

Last Thursday shortly before midnight John Lochrie passed on at his home on Fourth street east. For over five years he had suffered from acute arthritis, which taxed his energy and strength, and for sometime he was at the Mayo Institute, Rochester, and later at Banff, Alta. His illness was attributed first of all to an injury to his spine several years ago. He had lived here since 1932, and for awhile worked at McGillivray mine. Prior to coming to Coleman he worked at Butte, Montana.

He was born at Queensbury, Stirlingshire, and came to the United States and Canada following the Great War, in which he served in the Imperial Army for 31 years. He was in his 47th year. He was of a cheerful disposition, despite severe suffering in his later years, and a short time after the declaration of war he came down town on his crutches, and appeared to be quite cheered, remarking that it was time the suspense of Hitler's threats were ended. Even up to a short time before his fatal seizure on Thursday night, he was in his usual cheerful mood.

He leaves besides his wife, three daughters, Mrs. Matt Pardiell, (Agnes), Mrs. John Raymond, (Grace) and Daisy, living at home, a sister in Kimberley, B. C., two sisters in Seattle, two brothers in Butte, Mont., and another and two brothers at Stanburn, Scotland.

The funeral was held on Sunday, the service being at the home, conducted by Captain Watson and Lieut. Weddell, of the Salvation Army. The Canadian Legion turned out in honor of a fallen comrade.

Palbearers were Mr. Stigler, J. Bell, E. C. Clarke, B. Eysackers, Geo. Ford and J. Duncan. Captain Watson conducted the graveside burial, followed by the Coleman branch of the Canadian Legion. The coffin was covered with a Union Jack, and poppies were deposited on the coffin as the Legionnaires filed past the grave.

Red Cross Campaign Opens on Monday

Coleman Canvassers Will Call On All People To Help Raise $1,000 For National Headquarters.

On Monday, Nov. 13, the Canadian National Red Cross Society opens its $325,000 war fund campaign. Alberta's allotment is $150,000. For the southern half of Alberta, Mayor A. Davidson, of Calgary, is manager; his assistant being Mr. W. A. Austin, of Didsbury.

In Coleman Wilfrid Dutil is chairman of the finance and campaign committee, and he has the town and district well organized to commence the canvass next week.

Membership cards will be issued to all who subscribe, and stickers will be issued to show that homes subscribed to the campaign.

Attention is drawn to the fact that the $325,000 fund for which the Canadian Red Cross is now campaigning, is intended to cover both peace and wartime activities of the Society. All official canvassers in the campaign will carry official permits for identification purposes.

Mrs. Rippon, convener of the War Work Committee of the local branch of the Red Cross, has supplies from headquarters, and would be pleased to distribute them to parties who are willing to work for the soldiers in knitting socks or making up various articles of clothing. If they will kindly call at Mrs. Rippon's house they can secure supplies.

HARRY WON THE RAFFLE

The first of the season tickets raffled by the Canadians for the winter schedule was won by Harry Harris, caretaker at the hospital. The draw was made before the opening of the show at the Palace theatre on Saturday evening. A ticket a week will be raffled to raise funds for the team.

THE BISHOP'S BROADCAST

Bishop Sherman states that owing to his absence in Winnipeg on Nov. 17, there will be no broadcast that evening. He will speak Friday evening immediately following the Texaco broadcast, and the next broadcast will be on Friday, Nov. 24. The bishop has quite a large radio audience in the province, and has been broadcasting since the first week of the war.

Mrs. Woods, hospital matron, will entertain several friends at a bridge party on Thursday evening.

BRITISH PATROLS COVER ATLANTIC SHIP LINES

A new patrol system for the protection of Allied merchant shipping has been put into force by the British navy. Apparently much faster than the old convoy service, it is described by a British skipper as "like going from lamp post to lamp post." British war vessels lie in watchful little stunts, serving as policemen in a relatively uncircumscribed "beat." Directions for substantially every mile of the way come from the admiralty's wireless towers in London.

Canon Middleton Addressed Freemasons At Meeting

Official Visit Made By J.O.C. McDonald, District Deputy Grand Master.

Rev. Canon Middleton, of Cardston, visited Summit Lodge A.F. & A.M. last Thursday evening, and delivered a most interesting address on the history of Freemasonry dating from the tenth century. He was accompanied by Mr. LeCapelain, superintendent of Waterton National Park, and Mr. Reeves. The evening was the occasion of the official visit of J.O.C. McDonald, district deputy grand master of Masonic district No. 8.

Visitors included G.E. Cruickshank, past provincial grand master; past district deputy grand masters Robert Creighton and H.O. Westrup, and P. Haggerty, worshipful master of all of Sentinel Lodge, Hillcrest, as well as several members of the lodge; Capt. Ed. Donkin, a past master and members of both Rocky Mountain Lodge, Blairmore, and Sentinel Lodge.

On Tuesday evening J.O.C. McDonald paid his official visit to Spitzie Lodge, Pincher Creek, and was accompanied by several members of Summit Lodge and members of other lodges in the Pass towns.

Foss Boulton May Go East

Eight provisional pilot officers of the Royal Canadian Air Force, among whom is a Coleman boy, Foss Boulton, are almost at the end of two months instruction at the Calgary Aero Club. They have been examined by an officer of the western air command at Vancouver, and those who are successful will leave some time after Nov. 11 for intermediate training at Camp Borden, and advanced training at Trenton, Ont.

Primary training and intermediate training each call for 50 hours of flying time, which advanced calls for 25 hours.

Foss Boulton and Flying Officer Smith flew to Coleman on Saturday, landing at the local airport.

Canadians in Fine Form at Lethbridge

Work-Out at Lethbridge on Sunday Gives Critics Something to Talk About and Speculate On.

It's in the air! Hockey, Canada's unexcelled winter sport; the blood-stirrer of young and old, is again filling the hearts and minds of sport-loving people. Coleman Canadians have a fine team and it promises much under the veteran national league player, Gordon "Duke" Keats.

On Sunday they went to Lethbridge and were under the scrutiny of the fans and players of the city of the plains. It is anticipated they will put up a strong bid for the senior amateur championship, and everyone in the Pass is hoping that that cherished trophy, the Allan Cup, will find a resting place here at the close of the 1939-40 season.

Uniforms Needed

Military uniforms must be short in Calgary, for some of the recruits are walking around with odds and ends of uniforms. Some have a tunic only, some have an armband as the only indication they have volunteered for Canada's active service army. But the boys take it all in their stride in a good-natured way.

The sight of a khaki soldier walking down a Vancouver street with his girl swinging along on his arm, wearing slacks, left little doubt as to who was wearing the pants.

ST. JOHN AMBULANCE ASSOCIATION NOTES

Mr. John Rushton, secretary of the local branch, received word from Ottawa that the Dominion-wide competitions in First Aid and Home Nursing will not be held during 1940. This decision was taken only after reports were received from the provincial branches and special centres, which were against holding competitions at a time when our efforts should be concentrated on teaching First Aid and Home Nursing.

Personality Or Pattern?

The objectives of education have been set forth in many ways and in divers phrases from time to time. Many definitions have been given by many authorities and by some without authority. Some of these definitions are succinct and hit the mark precisely. Some do not broad enough to embrace the whole field. Some fall short of the real goal.

During recent years the popular conception of the ultimate aim of education has undergone a radical change. Time was when people thought the objective of education was the absorption of a mass of facts, data and information. The schools and colleges were regarded as factories and the students as receptacles for material, and often enough indigestible and undigested mental food. They were, in brief, cramming machines.

Hence the popularity (not with the students) of periodic examinations, the passing of which was the be-all and end-all of a successful scholastic career. At these mental orgies the unfortunate and harassed pupil was expected to disgorge all the facts, data and information with which he had been packed since the preceding test, insofar as the time limit permitted. If in the final year of the final course the "victim" was able to score a designated percentage of marks he was regarded as a finished product. He had completed his "education".

Too often the result was an automaton, who was no more fitted to take his place in the life of the world around him than a babe, who was unable to make decisions when thrown on his own resources and was unprepared to enjoy the richness of a full life.

A Changed Conception

Fortunately, the conception of the true aim of education, by a process of evolution of thought, has reached a higher plane, though, unfortunately, there still remain within the ranks of the priests and prophets of the educational system, some who have not altogether, at least in practice, relinquished the old ideas and the old shibboleths. Even these die-hard, however, are becoming converted and are ready to admit that there is much more to education—or should be—than the acquisition of learning.

Gradually in the minds of the general public, as well as in those of educational leaders, the impression is being borne home that the real objective of education is not to press the students into a common mould, not to turn them out to a common pattern, but that rather the aim is (or, again, should be) to develop a personality, and that this can only be done by leading the student to think for himself and to arrive at his own conclusions instead of having his thinking done for him. The student must be given facts, but he alone should be taught to base his own conclusions based upon those premises.

The mass production of a type-student may serve the purpose very well in countries where dictators hold the reins of power and where all that is expected of the citizen is blind obedience. Dictators are best served when citizens are not allowed or expected to think for themselves. Hence the first safety measure adopted by a dictator in office is to seize the youth and through the educational system mould them to the desired type.

Such an educational system, however, is the very antithesis of democracy. In countries where people still enjoy the right to rule themselves it is essential that they be able to think for themselves and arrive at their own conclusions. Otherwise, a soil is furnished in which dictatorship may easily spring up and flourish. The very basis of successful democratic government is an enlightened public opinion and the foundation on which an enlightened citizenship is built is to be found in the schools and colleges of the nation. If the foundation is strong, the superstructure will be sound and enduring.

Personality Essential

The student who is guided to think for himself is the student who will develop initiative and personality. Regimentation will find no nourishment in such soil. Hence, the importance of development of personality in the youth of the country, if democracy is to survive and make progress.

And if personality is to be the objective of an educational system, it is highly essential that the teacher be the embodiment of personality, that the teacher's influence make the right impression on the mind of the student. If the teacher has personality, it matters little what he teaches, his example and influence will be exerted in the direction of the production of the right type of citizenship. The result will be students with personality, able to take their place in the democratic picture with credit to themselves and to their country. So, may democracy live and overcome its defects.

Loyal Citizens

London Sunday Times tells this story: I met a lady who was wondering whether any one in the country would be found willing to take care of her two dachshunds for her. "They were both born in this country," she said anxiously, "and so were their parents. They are really English dogs at heart."

Barnardo Boys Enlist

Management Endeavoring To Compile An Honor Roll Of Those Who Have Volunteered

Thousand of boys who received a start in life from Dr. Barnardo's Homes enlisted voluntarily in the last war and served with distinction overseas. They are again joining the colors in large numbers, according to John W. Hobday, manager of Dr. Barnardo's Home, 538 Jarvis St., Toronto. The management of the homes is anxious to compile an honor roll of those who have enrolled for the present war and any information available should be sent to the home.

There were 6,211 Barnardo boys in the Canadian Expeditionary Force in the last war and 531 were killed or died of wounds. One of them was recommended for the V.C. before he died.

It is to be hoped that any information available will be sent to the Barnardo Home in Toronto, so that a complete record may be kept.

War Supply Board

Canada Will Now Proceed To Mobilize For Supreme War Effort

The war supply board has been constituted formally, absorbing the defence purchasing board set up last July.

The board will mobilize Dominion industry and resources for a supreme economic war effort with extraordinary powers vested in it under authority of the War Measures Act. In addition to duties in mobilizing potential production and manufacturing resources of the Dominion, the board will act as purchasing agent for the British war supplies mission now in Canada, and will pass upon all war contracts.

Apart from facilitating purchase of supplies for the Allies, the board will co-operate with the Riverdale mission charged with centralizing empire air training.

For this huge training project, thousands of aeroplanes will be necessary and it is assumed the manufacturing capacity of Canada will be taxed to the limit.

The board will also supervise purchase or lease of land, construction of plant and facilities, and purchase of equipment.

Another important feature of the board's activities concerns the naval service. Far heavier responsibilities have been placed upon the Canadian navy in the present war than existed in the first Great War.

It is anticipated all Canadian shipyards will be working at full capacity before long in construction of anti-submarine craft and mine-sweepers. Four large plants in eastern Canada are understood to be ready for heavy production at once.

Question of construction in Canada of larger war craft is under consideration. Since arrival of advance guards of the British purchasing mission its members have been studying the manufacturing possibilities of the Dominion. Result of these investigations may be reflected when the board is ready to publish the first letting of major contracts.

Rich Northern Mines

Valuable Ores Taken From Great Slave Lake Region

Samples of ore taken from the Great Slave Lake region have shown presence of two ores valuable in steel-hardening, according to the report of Slave Lake Gold Mines, Limited.

Tungsten, of which there is no commercial production in Canada at present, has been found in commercial quantities and molybdenum has also been detected although possibilities of its commercial development have not been investigated to any degree.

The report said six samples of ore taken from Outpost Island showed tungsten present in quantities as high as 1.29 per cent. Present prices for tungsten concentrate would make one per cent. ore worth $20 a ton, the report continued. It was considered commercial development of the property was feasible.

According to the Minerals Year Book of 1933, China furnished the main world supply of tungsten which is used for hardening steel for high-speed tools, for cementing tungsten carbides for slitters and for light and radio tube filaments and for preparation of various chemicals.

According to the book, China produced 17,895 metric tons of the metal for export in 1933, and United States production was 3,273 tons. Smaller quantities came from Portugal, Bolivia and the Malay States. The metal is also found in Russia, but the country's figures are not available.

U.S. War Orders

Business Stimulated In Many Lines, According To Statement

Bicycles for Brazil and fire hose for Great Britain are samples of the new business coming to the United States as a result of the war.

Sorting out some of the orders, James Young, director of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce, said that "the disrupted state of European trade has left many foreign markets open for American trade."

Young emphasized that it was not possible to segregate clearly orders resulting from the war from those which might have been placed in the country anyway, but the type of new business reported indicated a sizeable representation of actual war-born business.

The fire hose that England bought was distinctly a war order, in connection with air raid precautions. The hose ordered totaled $2,000,000. It was so large that it had to be made through an association of rubber manufacturers, which allotted it among its members.

South Africa bought $3,000,000 worth of fertilizer, and Australia bought 40,000 tons of nicotine sulphate.

Diphtheria Outbreak Halted

Airplane Brings Speedy Relief To Stricken Indian Reserve

Another instance of the value of air transportation in bringing medical assistance to Indians living in remote areas is reported by the Indian Affairs Branch, Department of Mines and Resources.

Upon receiving word of a diphtheria outbreak on the Indian Reserve at Stanley, Saskatchewan, some 160 miles north of Prince Albert, D. J. M. Morrow, medical officer stationed at Prince Albert, immediately chartered an airplane and reached the stricken settlement within a few hours. Three deaths had already occurred, and a number of the Indians were very sick. With the assistance of the clergyman, teacher, and two Indians, the doctor immediately started treatment by first giving curative amounts of antitoxin to all the sick cases, and then applying preventive treatment to the rest of the settlement.

The airplane pilot was sent back to Prince Albert, and returned to the reserve in 24 hours with food supplies and additional antitoxin. Meanwhile the doctor and his helpers worked continuously for about 36 hours until 236 people living in an area of about ten square miles were immunized. No further cases of diphtheria developed after the second day, and the outbreak was completely suppressed within four days. No deaths occurred after treatment was begun.

Canada's Navy

People Of Canada Have Reason To Be Proud Of Our Naval Force

Canadians should become very conscious. The Dominion now has a fleet of seven destroyers and four mine-sweepers. The most recent acquisition is the Assiniboia, named after one of the west's rivers, and it is the largest and fastest of the present destroyer flotilla. It was obtained from Great Britain and now is the leading ship of the Canadian navy.

Prairie people, far inland, are not usually thinking of naval matters, but to those who have experienced the sea there is something about affairs nautical that breeds men of courage. On the prairies battles with the elements are not the same. One has only to read Joseph Conrad's tales of the sea or any of the books published about the work of the British navy during the last war, to realize that something happens to a man's soul when he is victor over raging elements at sea. The soldier coming through his first major battle experiences something of the same. For the soldier it is a baptism of fire. For the sailor, cramped in close quarters between walls of steel, with a sharp prow cutting through mountains of raging water, it is also a rugged baptism. Men of the navy deserve all the credit they receive. They keep Empire lanes open and it is not an easy task.—Regina Leader-Post.

Young Author's First Play Served A Very Good Purpose

A young author was introduced to an eastern movie critic, in the movie town. The writer's first picture had just been shown on Broadway, and he immediately asked the critic what his opinion was.

"It was refreshing," returned the critic. "Very refreshing."

"Say, that's swell," beamed the young author. "Did you really find it so refreshing?"

"Absolutely," was the reply. "I felt like a new man when I woke up!"

Nobel Prize Award

Given To German, Although Hitler Refuses To Allow Acceptance

Award of the 1935 Nobel Prize for physiology and medicine to Prof. Gerhard Domagk of Germany, was announced, although the Nazi government of Adolf Hitler has refused to recognize the Nobel awards. The Nazi attitude toward the Nobel prizes came after Carl Von Ossietzky, pacifist writer, was given the Nobel Peace Prize in 1935 while he was in a Nazi concentration camp as an enemy of the state. Von Ossietzky died in 1938.

After the award in 1935, Hitler decreed that Germans could no longer accept the award, which amounted to $39,000 when awarded to Von Ossietzky. The Nazi further then announced special $40,000 prizes for art, literature and science to replace the Nobel Prizes as far as Germans were concerned.

Allied Navies For Protective Patrol Of The North Atlantic

Paris.—Allied naval co-ordination for a protective patrol of the North Atlantic for freighters rushing American war cargoes to Europe have been perfected. This was learned after a conference between Winston Churchill, first lord of the British admiralty, Cesar Campinchi, the French naval minister, and Admiral Francois Darlan, the chief of the French navy.

It was known that Churchill has been working at top speed with the French officials since he arrived in France on his first trip to the continent since the war started.

An official statement issued at the conclusion of a four-day visit to Paris of the first lord of the admiralty, Winston Churchill, said in part:

"The visit of Winston Churchill, first lord of the admiralty, to Paris, and his conversation with Cesar Campinchi, French minister of marine, and Admiral Jean Dartan, commander of the French naval forces, emphasizes the close co-operation of the French and British navies in the fight against Germany.

"The French navy to-day is a strong and highly efficient force. It is stronger in every arm than the German navy and its composition is peculiarly well suited to combat German methods of sea warfare, since French realism never lost sight of the fact that Germany would one day turn to the attack on the western democracies.

"At the outbreak of the war France had seven capital ships in commission. Of these, two are fast battle cruisers of 26,000 tons, armed with 13-inch guns. They are well suited for dealing with Germany's pocket battleships, and were in fact built as replies to those ships.

"The French navy has also been playing an important part in the interruption of German maritime trade and the capturing of German merchant vessels on the high seas. In this connection the capture by a French submarine of the German merchant ship Chemnitz and the escorting of that ship into a French harbor has made submarine history."

London.—The war office announced that arrangements are being made to grant home leaves to officers and men in the expeditionary force during the period from December to February, providing the situation in France warrants such action.

Embargo Repeal Will Probably Bring U. S. A Flood Of War Orders

Washington.—A flood of European war orders—much administration quarters expect to total $1,000,000 in the next few weeks—will be released by repeal of the United States arms embargo.

Even before the house of representatives voted to repeal the embargo a French purchasing mission contracted for 4,600 aircraft motors from two eastern manufacturers at a price of approximately $50,000,000, officials were informed. A British mission has been negotiating for some 1,600 training planes.

The arms embargo halted delivery on some 600 aircraft early in September. In addition to these, the French contemplate purchases of some 3,800 planes, and the British 4,000, it was reported authoritatively. A Swedish mission has been negotiating for upwards of 250 aircraft and a Belgian mission for 200.

The British-French Allies have stressed their need for war planes of all types, but their purchases are expected to cover a wide range of other products, including:

Motor trucks and motorcycles, clothing, machine tools, field ranges, explosives, foodstuffs, surgical instruments, hospital supplies, searchlights, gas masks, pontoon equipment, water purifying units, ambulances, tents, saddles, telephones and radio compasses.

No Change In Policy

Mussolini Newspaper Says Cabinet Shakeup Gave Wrong Impression Milan, Italy.—Premier Mussolini's newspaper, Il Popolo D'Italia, said in an inspired editorial that no change in Italian policy was involved in the cabinet shakeup.

The article, featured on page one, clearly was directed toward foreign interpretations of the cabinet shift. Some of these interpretations were that Italy was veering away from Germany.

Il Popolo said such foreign comment was "puerile" and proof that "liberal democratic mentality" could not grasp the idea of "an unsharable regime wherein the tendencies of groups and persons do not exist but only one political faith, one single orientation of ideas and men who even as leaders have above all pride in feeling themselves always faithful to the orders of one single will."

Accorded Full Honors

Escort From R.A.F. Attended Funeral Of German Airman

Edinburgh.—Two German airman killed in the bomber which was downed off the Scottish coast on Oct. 15 were buried in Portobello cemetery with full honors, alongside two of their compatriots.

German flags draped the coffins and wreaths were laid on the grave from the officers and men of the Royal Air Force. An escort from the R.A.F. flew a firing party accompanied the cortege.

No Butter Shortage

Bureau Of Statistics Reports Canada Has Ample Supply

Ottawa.—Canada's butter supply situation "is quite satisfactory," the Dominion bureau of statistics reported.

On the basis of September to April factory output in 1938-39, the visible and prospective supply for the succeeding eight months would exceed domestic requirements by approximately 13,000,000 pounds, even if the demand remained the same, the bureau stated.

German War Prisoners

London.—German war prisoners in the United Kingdom "are being well fed and well treated and have shown themselves much impressed by the marked difference between actual conditions in this country and the picture which had been put before them in Germany," War Secretary Leslie Hore-Belisha told the House of Commons. "They have access to our newspapers," he added, in a reply to a query.

Prisoners Of War

Red Cross Forms Clearing House At Geneva For Identification

London.—In London, Paris and Berlin, capitals of the warring governments, and in neutral Switzerland's Geneva, officials are busy at a task that will help to shorten the hours of anxiety and uncertainty in thousands of homes before the war ends.

They are gathering the names of prisoners of war and men found killed or who have been identified.

The work is being carried out by the International Red Cross committee, whose bureau at Geneva forms a clearing house for the exchange of lists of captured men between belligerent countries.

Red Cross delegates in Berlin, Paris and London obtain the lists from the respective governments and take them to Geneva.

The first list of British and French prisoners in Germany has already been forwarded to London and Paris and similar lists of Germans held here are reported to have been sent to Geneva.

"At the moment the lists are mainly composed of British and French airman, German submarine crews, and Polish prisoners, including refugees in Hungary and Rumania," an official of the Red Cross said.

A Red Cross official here said that when the Canadian expeditionary force arrives in Europe relations between the committee in Geneva and the Dominion would be maintained either by the appointment of a delegate in Ottawa or through London.

At present all enquiries should be sent to "Central Agency for Prisoners of War, Geneva."

Receives Appointment

Chas. J. Burchell, K.C., Of Halifax, High Commissioner To Australia

Ottawa.—Charles J. Burchell, K.C., of Halifax, has been appointed Canada high commissioner to Australia. Prime Minister Mackenzie King announced.

The appointment was in line with an announcement by the prime minister during the special session of parliament last September when he said that to assist in co-ordinating the Empire war effort, high commissioners would be appointed to other British dominions.

For many years Canada has maintained a high commissioner in London but Mr. Burchell's appointment is the first to any of the other dominions. Similar appointments will be made to New Zealand, South Africa and Elze.

Mr. Burchell is the senior member of the legal firm of Burchell, Smith, Parker and Fogo of Halifax. In addition to his legal practice, he has taken an active part in the direction of maritime industries.

For many years he has been active in international and inter-imperial affairs.

Barred From Canada

Ottawa.—The department of national revenue in a memorandum to collectors of customs and excise notified that the weekly magazine Social Justice has been added to the list of publications forbidden entry to Canada. The weekly is sponsored by Father Charles Coughlin, of Royal Oak, Mich.

Soldiers Executed

Reported Aftermath Of Assassination Of General Werner Von Fritsch

Bucharest.—Sources regarded as being well-informed on German affairs claimed that three soldiers were executed in Germany for the "assassination" of Col.-Gen. Werner von Fritsch during the reich's campaign in Poland.

The official German version of Von Fritsch's death was that he was killed in the fighting outside Warsaw while on a reconnaissance patrol. No explanation was ever given how a military man of Gen. von Fritsch's standing was participating in such a patrol.

The reports circulating here interpreted in some emigre quarters as indicating Von Fritsch had been killed because he was known to have differed radically with other German leaders, particularly Adolf Hitler. Refugee circles suggested the three soldiers executed might have been made "scapegoats" in the affair.

For Rejected Men

May Be Given Ranges To Show That They Were Willing To Serve

Ottawa.—Canadians who have tried to enlist but have been rejected for military service may wear a badge to show they are not lacking in a desire to serve, according to a plan under consideration by the government.

The little lapel badge would protect its wearer from any stigma of "slacker" through demonstrating his good intentions. Slightly different badges serving a similar purpose would be distributed to those engaged in certain essential services from which they cannot be spared for military service.

Proof Was Provided

London.—The war office announced proof that no poison gas had been sent to Poland, as charged by Germany, had been provided by detailed examination of the board of trade's export license lists. Licensees maintain strictest control and complete record of all exports of munitions, it was pointed out.

Amendment To U. S. Neutrality Act Has Now Become Law

Washington.—Congress, convened Sept. 21 to amend the United States Neutrality Act, adjourned Nov. 3.

The house of representatives completed congressional action on the administration's neutrality bill repealing the United States arms embargo, and President Roosevelt signed it into law.

The house action in accepting a conference report on the measure came quickly after the senate voted 55 to 24 its approval of the report.

Scores of American-made planes, constituting only an initial consignment, have been accumulating in the New York area for weeks, ready for quick shipment abroad.

One type which France and Great Britain are expected to order in quantity for long-distance bombing work, a four-engined plane capable of crossing the United States non-stop, set three world records last August.

Two types, a medium bomber and an attack bomber, were described during their test flights a few months ago as the latest developments in big motorized warplanes, with speeds "in excess of 300 miles an hour." Several hundred of them were ordered by the French prior to the start of the war.

None of either type was delivered before the embargo went into effect. Dow-Jones & Co., financial news agency, in a copyrighted story, said five United States aircraft manufacturers had received or will receive shortly from the Allies orders totalling $159,000,000.

Czech Settlers

Sudetland Farmers In Peace River Block Have Good Crop

Edmonton.—The Sudetland settlers of Tupper Creek B.C., harvested 20,000 bushels of oats, 2,000 of barley, 700 of wheat and 4,000 of potatoes from their tract in the Peace River block, T. O. F. Herzer of Winnipeg stated here.

Herzer, head of the Canada Colonization Association of the Canadian Pacific Railway, passed through here en route from the newly-formed colony to Winnipeg. The first Canadian crop harvested by the former residents of Czecho-Slovakian Sudetland, he said, will provide plenty of feed for their livestock for the winter.

The 500 members of the group's 152 families are engaged now with fall plowing, Herzer said. They are all set for the winter with adequate housing and clothing.

Request From Britain

Rome.—Italy received a British request for authorization to establish a consulate general in Tirana, capital of Italian-occupied Albania. Great Britain, like most other nations, has been without a consular representative in Tirana since Italian troops marched in April 9.

Conference In London Is Demonstration Of Unity Of Empire

London.—Prime Minister Chamberlain told the House of Commons that conferences in London of Dominion cabinet ministers are a "striking demonstration of the united determination of the empire."

In his weekly war report, the prime minister dismissed the speech of Soviet Premier Vyacheslav Molotov by saying it "occasioned some disappointment in Berlin and refusing to disturb myself over flights of fancy in which M. Molotov indulged when describing the aims of the Allies."

Prime Minister Chamberlain reported the British expeditionary forces were strengthening their defences on their sector of the Western Front.

Despite the loss of merchant ships, "nothing has occurred to shake our confidence in our ability to overcome the submarine menace," Mr. Chamberlain told the house.

Referring to the empire, Mr. Chamberlain—with Hon. T. A. Crear of Canada and other Dominion ministers in the of the allies—said we have had in the last few days a striking demonstration of the united determination of the empire.

Wall Street sources disclosed the Societe Generale of Paris, one of the largest French banking houses, has applied to the New York state banking department for permission to open an agency in New York.

Because of passage of the neutrality measure, the United States lines deferred "indefinitely" the sailings of the liners Washington, President Roosevelt and American Farmer, all of which were scheduled to leave for England and French ports.

Official Canadian circles intimated it might be taken for granted there will be immediate steps looking toward heavy purchases in the United States.

A British mission is expected to be sent to Washington to supervise purchasing but whether it will be made up of a part of the mission now in Canada or by another group of officials from England is not known.

In any event, repeal will not prove a detriment to mobilization of Canadian industry to its fullest capacity if the need arises.

Already by repatriation of Canadian securities held in England, an initial credit of $81,000,000 is being set up for British purchases in the Dominion of war supplies, raw materials and foodstuffs.

It is assumed the British government, by acquiring United States securities held by investors resident in Great Britain, will finance American cash-and-carry purchases in the same manner.

May Ask For Loan

Report That Dominion Government Will Issue One For $200,000,000

Ottawa.—It was learned reliably that the Dominion government may ask the people for a loan of $200,000,000 within the next six months. It was understood that approximately $86,000,000 of this total will be used to repatriate the old Canadian government bond issues held in England amounting to £19,300,000 in order to provide the British government with funds to purchase war supplies in Canada.

The fact was pointed out that Canada will not be performing a patriotic duty by redeeming the issue but will make a substantial saving on the original loan. Observers working out the project said that Canada in all would stand to profit $5,000,000.

Big Job For Lord Nuffield

London.—Lord Nuffield, millionaire philanthropist and automobile manufacturer, has been appointed director general of maintenance in the British air ministry, it was announced. His job will be to exercise "general supervision" over supply services of the Royal Air Force with a view to the co-ordination with the repair service. He will serve without pay.

Strawberries In Victoria

While chilly blasts and leaf-shedding trees mark the approach of winter in Eastern Canada, horticultural-minded British Columbians on the west coast are picking fine, fat, full-flavored strawberries from thick beds. NOTES AND COMMENTS

IN a circular issued by the Social Credit party in preparation for a provincial election in 1940, is contained the following: "The next election is not only a test of numerical strength, but one of intelligence on the part of those who desire a specific result."

Which recalls that Premier Aberhart's appeal in 1935 was based on the assurance that he would achieve a specific result, viz., $25 a month for every person in Alberta, lower taxes, and many other things which have not come to pass. It will be very difficult for him to arouse the same degree of enthusiasm in 1940 as in 1935, for the people have been disillusioned, except those who climbed on the Social Credit band wagon and got jobs.

WINTER begins to make its arrival known by lower temperatures and an invigorating atmosphere. Cities are reporting better business than they have experienced for several years. Mobilization of troops, and a better than ordinary crop in Alberta have given a boost to all lines. Marriages too have made a big upward swing, possibly owing to the desire of couples to be wedded before the big push overseas commences, though so far there is no indication of an immediate big movement such as experienced in the first weeks of the war in 1914, when British troops moved up to Mons and then were forced to retreat by the steam-roller advance of the grey-clad Huns.

UNDOUBTEDLY business will benefit in Canada as a result of the war, and there will be a corresponding increase in prices to make up for the extra taxation involved. More money will circulate, and possibly people will become less careful in spending. Experience of the last war taught most people that the net result left them poorer than under normal conditions, for men's suits went as high as a hundred dollars each and even more which ordinarily would cost one third or a quarter of that amount. Groceries also skyrocketed.

ter of that amount. Groceries also skyrocketed.

THOUGH credit buying to a certain extent is essential, it should not be necessary to the extent that it is in Coleman. The complaint of merchants in small towns is that promises to pay are all too frequently neglected, in some cases ignored entirely, and harsh measures have to be taken to collect. In conversation with a merchant in a British Columbia mining town, the same complaint was registered. With a fortnightly payroll of close to $40,000, credit buying is rampant. The point is that the majority of wage-earners know almost to a dollar how much they will earn each week, yet instead of buying accordingly and paying cash, they have goods charged beyond their ability to pay. There is only one way in which this evil can be stopped, and that is by retailers deciding to discontinue giving credit to poor risks. They receive no sympathy from the debtor who finds himself unable to pay, and it would be to the benefit of all if all retail purchasing was on a strictly cash basis. Even the buyers would benefit, while merchants would be spared a lot of worry and difficulty in meeting bills due for goods they supply on credit. The remedy is really in the merchants' hands.

THE quickest way in which the Social Credit government could be defeated and a sane government elected would be for Premier Aberhart to bring on an election with a view to securing another five years of office and pickings at the pork barrel for all his followers. There would in all probability be a repetition of the recent Quebec election. Canadian unity comes before self aggrandizement of politicians, especially while the country is at war, as was so splendidly proved by the people of Quebec.

The Journal is a locally owned and operated business concern, paying local taxes, and providing employment for local workers. Place your orders for printing with your local printing office for quality goods at fair prices. We all benefit thereby, for the greater part of the money earned goes back in local retail trade. Conservation of Wealth

Call for conservation of all natural wealth of the province was made by Lands and Mines Minister N. E. Tanner this week. Pointing out that of 521 forest fires breaking out last year, 509 were caused by man's action, he said government was giving a lead to citizens by conserving natural resources so as to secure the greatest good for the greatest number over the greatest period of time. He appealed to settlers, hunters, trappers, fishermen and pleasure seekers to co-operate fully in observing all regulations designed to protect the natural wealth of the province.

THE CAREFUL DRIVER

If our automobile drivers, and our pedestrians, too, could visit the hospitals where lie today's traffic victims... if they could realize that all of these needless accidents occur and these lives are destroyed because of incompetency or neglect or because of inadequate protection of some kind—then we are confident that the constructive program of traffic accident prevention would be advanced much faster.

The Colonel Discovers a "Boner"

Lieut.-Col. Robert F. Barnes states that this family journal pulled a "boner" last week. The picture on the front page showed a trumpeter of the 53rd Battery, Royal Canadian Artillery, sounding the reveille, and the heading was—"Learning the Bugle Calls." Glancing over the front page, Col. Barnes remarked: "Look 'ere, don't you know better than that; that's not a bugle the soldier has,—now what is it?" Taking another look, we had to admit it was a trumpet, as there is a distinction or difference which must not be overlooked. "Bugles in the infantry; trumpets in the cavalry, my boy," remarked the colonel. He must be right!

No causes are won by those who merely sit and wait for the best.

At conclusion of play next Sunday evening, the refreshment committee of Coleman Badminton club will serve tea to the members.

Some local dealers in firearms and ammunition had to sign a declaration this week stating that they were not subjects of a country at war with Great Britain, before being granted further supplies of arms and ammunition.

Says Purity Maid: "I've a tip to suggest. If you seek cooking fame, use none but the best.
Use Purity Flour for bread, cakes and pies.
You'll win smiles and praises, and many a prize."

PURITY MAID SAYS:

"It must be quite puzzling to all the sweet young brides to read about 'bread flour' and 'pastry flour' and 'cake flour'. But it isn't really confusing... not when you learn from experience that Purity Flour is all of these in one. Yes, Purity Flour is a wonderful flour for bread. And it is equally wonderful for all kinds of lovely cakes and pies and pastries. Just you try making Flaky Pastry with Purity Flour, and you will be rewarded with a flakiness and a distinctive flavor that will win you satisfying words of approval."

PURITY FLAKY PASTRY
8 cups Purity Flour 1 cup shortening
14 teaspoon salt 1 cup cold water
Mix the flour with salt, and add in half the shortening until mixture is like fine meal and water gradually, and mix thoroughly, using less than 1 cup of water if possible.
2. Turn out on board covered with very light sifting of flour and roll to 1/4 inch thickness.
3. Spread remaining shortening over rolled dough; fold dough over 3 times and roll again to required thickness. Always keep dough at the crumbly stage. A dough heavy with water will not bake up in the oven.
4. Bake in hot oven 275 degrees. (If richer pastry is desired, use half butter and half shortening or more shortening.)

Protest Made

out to the authorities that in the proposed registration of the townsite west of Coleman (known locally as Beck's Townsite), the intake for the town's water supply was east of the proposed townsite. The letter stated that in all probability the intake would have to be moved west of the townsite at considerable expense. It also stated that sanitary conditions in this section had already resulted in inspectors coming from the capital to investigate. The letter was really a strong protest against the registration of the townsite. The council endorsed the action of the company, and will send a letter to Edmonton recording this endorsement.

Purchase of a 2½-ton truck was discussed at length. It was stated that the present truck, 9 years old, was practically finished. A repair bill of $275 would be necessary to put the truck into shape with the danger of further break-downs. It was moved to purchase a new truck and seek a loan from the bank to purchase same. A committee of two, Councillors White and Atkinson, was authorized to interview local truck dealers for data. A special meeting will likely be called this week to hear a report and determine the type of machine desired.

A letter will be sent to Sam Sagoff, warning him to keep his tractor off all hard-surfaced roads in town. John Salvador will be asked to repair the roadway used by McGillivray miners near the H. H. Gardner residence, where they come up from the creek bed road to Park Terrace. List of accounts passed will be published next week.

GOOD IMPRESSIONS

If there is one thing that impresses the general public with a town's progress and enterprise, it is the advertising of local merchants in their local weekly newspaper. Also it is the finest medium through which to develop customer goodwill, which leads to ever increasing business.

THE JOURNAL IS BEST

The Journal is the best printed and best advertising medium, with a paid-up circulation. People read it because they are willing to pay for it. Bona-fide paid up circulation is the best from an advertising standpoint. Anything given for nothing is valued accordingly.

Real Death Ray

Blue Beam Would Have No Military Value, It Is Said

The price of three giant bombing planes will build the world's first real death ray, a bright, blue beam 50 feet long, a few inches in diameter.

The machine cannot be used for war, and the ray, for peace purposes, promises knowledge beyond all present dreams.

The ray machine is a cyclotron which would manufacture 100,000,000-volt particles to shoot them out at speeds of 60,000 to 70,000 miles an hour. Its possibilities were described to the National Academy of Sciences by Dr. Ernest Lawrence of the University of California.

A cyclotron is a huge electro-magnet arranged so that atomic particles whirl around in it until they attain speeds of thousands of miles an hour. The speeding particles are drawn off and used to bombard chemical elements.

One of the things which cyclotrons do is render ordinary substances radio-active. They emit the same rays as radium.

As a death ray the blue beam would have no military value for two reasons. The person touched by it would not die for several days and meanwhile would remain for some time a very live fighter. The giant is too heavy to be moved around.

Protect Aliens

Those Who Have Established Their Loyalty Will Receive Credentials

Special identification documents will be issued to persons who, while technically classified as enemy aliens, have clearly established their loyalty and trustworthiness in wartime, the prime minister's office has announced.

These arrangements were discussed fully with the consul-general of Czechoslovakia and, said the announcement, "it is understood that Czechoslovak nationals of undoubted loyalty will be able to exchange their original certificates of registration for the new documents which will protect them in the exercise of their civil rights."

"It may be anticipated that the new identification documents will also be issued to persons who, while technically enemy aliens by virtue of their German nationality, have clearly established their loyalty to Canada."

Under the defence of Canada regulations, the Royal Canadian Mounted Police were ordered on September 30 to register non-naturalized British subjects in Canada of German nationality or those born in territories under the sovereignty or control of the Reich on September 3, when war broke out.

New Badges

Regimental Mottoes For Units In Britain Under Consideration

The question of finding new badges and mottoes for units called into being through the expansion of the Territorial and Auxiliary forces is under consideration in official quarters. At present, units use the badges and mottoes either of their parent corps or of the regiment to which they are affiliated. Most regimental mottoes are in Latin, although French, German, Welsh, and Gaelic are also used. In searching for new mottoes, local traditions and peculiarities will doubtless be closely studied.

"What dour middle wif me?" has long been the accepted translation of the motto "Nemo me Impune Lacessit" borne by the Royal Scots and some other Scottish regiments. In the same way some of the new units from the West Riding may prefer, instead of the King's Own Yorkshire Light Infantry's "Cede Nullis," the vernacular rendering "Cop 'Tat an' Stick". In the motto worn in conjunction with the Irish harp and the crown by the Royal Ulster Rifles might be supposed to have some political significance, but actually it is the motto of the Order of St. Patrick, and as such is used by the Irish Guards and some of the former Irish cavalry regiments. — London Daily Mail.

The Real Danger

Loss Of Freedom Is Really A Challenge To Christianity

The following article is by William Allen White, Editor of the Emporia Gazette:

The danger of the loss of freedom is real. It boils down to a challenge of the Christian way of life. Which doesn't mean piety and going to church and getting out of hell into heaven. It means living decently, the right of the strong man to be useful and the right of the ordinary man to be kind, neighborly and just to whom he pleases, black or white, Jew or atheist, rich or poor, weak or strong—when he pleases and where he pleases, and not to be chained to his duties and limited in his rights. In every state where the tyrants have risen the first thing they have struck at is Christianity—not because they care a snap about the plan of salvation! But instinctively because totalitarian governments cannot flourish where men are free to worship, to think, to vote, to read, to speak; and where laws and institutions reflect this kindly free philosophy of Jesus of Nazareth, the philosophy of meekness, of kindness, the philosophy of consideration for one's own duties and of one's neighbor's rights.

This challenge to Christianity is at the heart of the world's turmoil.

Solar Cook Stove

Cooking By Sun's Rays Likely To Be In Common Use Before Long

Dr. C. G. Abbot, who more than a decade ago built a solar cook stove at the Wilson observatory, and continued experiments in harnessing the sun's rays, now reports:

"Both solar cooking and solar distilling of non-potable water are practicable and efficient propositions, and likely will be in common use before very long. If the necessary outfits can be produced at attractive prices, solar water heaters are now used considerably in Florida and California.

The original cost is practically the only expense involved in solar heat devices, he finds, but the drawback is the halt in production during night and cloudy hours. However, it is possible to provide for 24 hours heat storage.

Advice To New Canadians

Those Who Seek Protection Of Canadian Laws Should Understand Their Obligations

Judge McPherson, of Kent county, addressing at Chatham, the other day a group of applicants for Canadian citizenship, made some observations which ought to have wide publicity. He said:

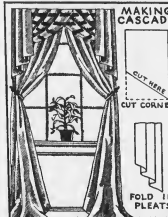

"I hope you fully realize your privileges. In Canada you have the utmost protection, freedom and liberty, as long as you conduct yourself properly and comply with its laws. In many European countries such protection, freedom and liberty do not exist. In these countries the government is in the hands of dictators who are supreme in their authority. The people, including children, belong to the state. In a democracy the state belongs to the people—a vast difference.

"If you believe in a totalitarian state, and think that its government is better than that of a democracy you should never have come to Canada. If any of you think even now that kind of government is superior to Canada, you should go and live under a dictator. Unless you are loyal to Canada and believe in its form of government, you have no right to be a British subject."

It is well that those who seek the protection of Canadian laws should understand fully the obligations they assume, the responsibilities they agree to share. They receive liberty, the right to their own personalities, but they must give in return true loyalty to our institutions—Ottawa Journal.

Explanations and Comments

A Warning Against Covetousness, Matthew 6:19-24. It is a peculiarity of the Hebrew style, often recurring in Scripture, to make an absolute statement which is designed to be understood relatively. As we have already seen, Jesus often spoke in this manner. So here, when he bids us lay not up for ourselves treasures upon the earth, his statement is to be taken relatively; he is not speaking against wise provision for the future here on earth, but is contrasting earthly with heavenly things in value.

Better than the avariciously storing up treasures on earth, which may be destroyed by moth or rust or stolen by thieves, is the laying up for ourselves of the indestructible treasures in heaven. Make for yourself a treasure in the heavens that faileth not. (Lk. 12:33).

For that kind of wealth hereafter," said Mohammed, "is the good he has done in this world to his fellow-man. What do you think, Whelp? What good deeds has he sent before him?"

Thy harvest of well-doing, wealth

Nor thieves can take away.

When all the things

Thou hast laid up for goods, pleasures, honors—fall

Thou in thy virtue shalt survive them all" (Whittier).

For where thy treasure is there will thy heart be also, and your heart should be fixed on God. "The heart follows the treasure as the shadow follows the loadstone, or the sun follows the sun" (Matthew Henry).

Canadians Offer To Go To England To Help Jenny Morris

Hundreds of Canadians have written to Jenny Morris offering to come to England to help "the mother of the Princess Patricia" as a result of the story that she again is preparing to look after the Dominion's expeditionary force as she did in the last war.

Scores of women want to cook, nurse, entertain or keep house for the woman who and the part of "mother" for the famed Princess Patricia Canadian Light Infantry when they came overseas in the last war. Many of Jenny's "sons" of the last war appeared to be allowed to try to do anything here, even though age prevents them coming over again as soldiers.

Jenny, dealing with a flood of letters which arrived in long-delayed Canadian mail, said she intends to try to reply to all her "beloved Canadians."

Meanwhile she is awaiting a letter from the Canadian Legion who cabled asking her to join their organization here.

Making Soldiers' Wills

Old Law Has Come Into Force Again In Britain

A law as old as the Roman occupation of Britain has been dusted off again as the nation's armed forces go to war.

It gives the right of a man on active service to make a verbal will, merely by saying to a comrade something like: "If I go west, I want Annie to have everything." Courts will recognize such words as valid wills if the comrade appears and swears his friend uttered them.

In addition a man on active service may write his will in a letter, a notebook or a scrap of paper and sign it. It will then have force in law when his signature is identified.

Such wills, known as nuncupative (declaratory) wills, date from the days of the Roman legions when soldiers told their officers in advance of battles what disposition they wished make of their property should they fall.

UNDERGROUND OPERATING ROOM

Nothing is more directly affected by war conditions than civilian hospital management and the way the crisis was met in England gives an idea of the immensity of the problem before hospital authorities.

The evacuation of the patients from the hospitals in London and other cities was performed with celerity and smoothness. As in the case of the evacuation of children, plans for removing hospital patients had been made months in advance.

Details were so carefully planned that clock-like precision marked the actual evacuation. Ambulant patients were taken away in cars provided by friends of the hospitals; then at a stated hour coaches arrived for patients waiting on stretchers.

At some of the hospitals strong sub-basements protected against gas have been made ready for casualties of air raids.

An underground operating room is being built under the foundations of a new block of buildings at the Hospital for Sick Children, London. The underground accommodation, the first of its kind in England, will consist of a receiving room with eighty seats, six dressing rooms where minor injuries can be treated; an operating room for major casualties with three tables and nine dressing and anaesthetic cubicles; a duty room for the staff and a sterilizing room. The electric light and water supply are from sources independent of the main service.

Another Industry Affected

Manufacturers Fear War Will Hold Up Wig-Making Supplies

The hair-dress trend is up in price, if you wear a wig, and all because of Hitler.

Toronto has quite a flourishing wig-making industry, according to one manufacturer. Though no marked effect has yet been felt the war is bound to start prices upwards, he said.

Human hair is a commodity supplied almost entirely from Europe, it was explained. Some of it is imported "raw," some is imported from France and prepared for wig-making. Sometimes manufactured wigs made in France are imported.

"The problem won't be to get wigs and material across the ocean," the official explained. "But with a war on people in France and Germany and other countries where the wig business centres will be just too busy with wartime duties to keep on supplying us."

In Hollywood the situation is said to be even more serious. There a tremendous yardage of imported hair is used in preparing false hair-dos for picture purposes.

European Federation

British Leaders Decide This As A Step Towards Permanent Peace

Hugh S. Watt, correspondent for the London Telegraph and Sunday Times, said that Britain's leaders have virtually decided upon a federation of European states as a step toward a permanent peace. He was addressing the Canadian Club here.

"I can see no more serious authority than British political circles are thinking in terms of federation after the war," he said.

"Britain is ready to give up some of the essential elements of her sovereign power in order to establish some form of world order. Such a plan, of course, depends upon Germany not going Communist, as seems possible right now."

"The plan is expected to be very similar to the organization of the United States," he continued. "Each unit would give up its external sovereignty, pass over complete control of its foreign relations to be ruled by this central authority. Powers would be divided between the central authority and the various states, just as in the United States."

THE RIVER OF SKULLS

CHAPTER VIII.

One morning, ten days after the boys had left for the Sinking Lakes, Heather, who had been hard at work gathering a supply of berries for the winter, took her pack bag, in which she carried them, and her rifle and started for the barren above the valley. It was a keen day in late September. The floor of the forest was yellow with the leaves of birch and aspen.

Leaving the valley, for an hour she walked across the treeless tundra, gray with caribou moss, like velvet to the feet, and splashed with patches of low growing blueberries, bake-apple, moss and cranberries. But she did not stop until she came to a fold in the barren, a little valley or awe where, shielded from the wind, dwarf spruce, juniper and deer bush gallantly battled for existence. Here the berries grew in profusion and of a somewhat larger size than out on the open tundra.

Heather had almost filled her bag and was seated, eating her lunch of ham and cheese, when her eyes caught something black moving in the low scrub a hundred yards away. "It must be—it must be a bear!" she exclaimed, reaching for her gun. Her heart pounded with excitement. She had seen bears before but never had she shot one. And here was the chance to add much-needed meat and grease to their store of winter provisions.

On hands and knees she started to crawl toward the bear feeding on berries a short rifle-shot away. She did not dare risk a shot until she had a better view of him, so worked her way cautiously through thick came until, hardly a stone's throw distant on the lip of the valley, above her, they stopped. Her heart faltered. Suppose they should see the dead bear?

For a space a thick-set white man with a beard argued heatedly with his companion, an Indian.

"The man Rough mused that night," she thought, trembling where she lay, hugging the moss beneath the thick juniper. "But who is the other? What's a white man doing here on the Talking? Can it be McQueen's found his way back to the forks?"

But the men noticed nothing, so engrossed were they in their talk. Shortly they moved on, while the agitated girl lay for a long time after they had disappeared from sight. Then she made her way back home over the barren.

Reaching the Sinking Lakes Alan and Noel worked to the limit of their strength against the coming of the "Freezing Moon" that, in October, would ride high over the barrens. As they sat in front of their tent before their fires on the frosty evenings, with the dogs lying around them, they made plans for the search for a water way to the Kokosak when the large lakes froze and the snow packed hard for sledding.

"Our finding this River of Skulls is just a question of meat and fish, Noel, if the Indians leave us alone," said Alan.

The Montagnais shook his head, doubtfully.

"We're going to have a lot of pemican, flour and beans in that emergency cache at the head of the river. Pemican keeps all summer and we'll make plenty for there are deer wintering in this valley."

"Shish! Listen!" The two men sat with straining ears. Presently, far above them in the frosty air they heard the faint, clatter-like, marching chorus of a flock of whistling swan. High up under the stars, that shone blue behind the pearly banners of the aurora that writhed across the heavens, they passed like ghosts on their long pilgrimage to southern waters.

"Guess that's about the last of those boys this year," said Alan. "Straight from Baffin Land, I'll bet. Well, Noel, my lad, the long snows will be with us, and then—the big jump off!"

Day by day the platform fish-catch, mounted on high, peeled spruce saplings, ringed with inverted cod-hooks to baffle climbing wolverines, received the night's catch of the two gill-nets. Great lake trout, the Montagnais kokomosh, "the fish that swallows everything," some running to 20 pounds in weight, white-fish, jack-fish or northern pike, red and gray suckers, and ling, came to the nets. It would require an enormous supply of fish to feed the hungry Ungavats through the winter months, and there were four humans besides.

Deep in the spruce and tamarack swamps that circled some of the chain of Sinking Lakes and gave them their name, Alan and Noel were much relieved to find scattered bands of caribou that had lingered behind the migration to winter in the valley and feed on the moss, called "old man's beard," that draped the dry spruce.

Before the October freeze-up closed the river and the large lake on which they were camped, the boys made a hurried visit to the McCords with a canoe load of trout and meat and the pie-baked kinds of young caribou to be turned into hooded parkies and smoked moccasins for snowshoeing, working with the strongest thread known, the split

"The 'Freezing Moon' had come. Each morning the boys had to break out their net buoys, for the film ice was reaching out far from the shore although the large lake on which they were camped was not as yet closed. Snowshoes, strung with caribou thong, which, unlike moose and cow hide, shrink when wet rather than stretch, were ready, as well as a long toboggan sled. Noel, expert hide worker, had made hooded parkies and smoked moccasins for snowshoeing, working with the strongest thread known, the split

Searching along the rim of the valley where it sloped from the barren, she saw nothing; she crawled to some ground juniper and edged under its spreading branches. Soon the sound came again to her ears.

"Who can it be?" she said aloud. "McQueen or those Indians? And they're coming from the direction of the camp!"

Watching both shoulders of the narrow valley, at last she saw two men, carrying guns. They were walking along the rim of the valley, talking excitedly. She wondered if they had heard her shots—or they could hear her. Nearer and nearer, they sinews from the back of a bull caribou.

So soon as the snow was deep enough for sledding, the puppies growing like colts, were given their first lessons in tandem harness, for their short experience of the previous spring with the single harness of the Eskimos was of little value. With Rough as leader, followed in turn by Powder, Rogue and Shot as wheel or sled dog, the big puppies were started in the school of collar, trace and trail. On the young snow of those keen October days, when the wind had the edge of a knife, it was a joy to Alan and Noel to train dogs with such spirit and power.

420,000,000 Pounds Of Copper To Be Supplied To Great Britain

Major Canadian copper producers are consummating agreements with the British ministry of supply to supply 420,000,000 pounds of electrolytic copper over an approximate period of one year for Great Britain's wartime requirements, the prime minister's office announced.

This amount represents approximately 80 per cent. of the current output of the contracting producers. Adequate provision has been made for protection of domestic requirements, the announcement said.

On Sept. 2, the day before the outbreak of war, the price of electrolytic copper in North American markets was approximately 11 cents a pound, making the first year's order from the British government worth $46,200,000.

Scientist Has Pepped Up Pemman For Admirals Byrd's Explorers

A Massachusetts Institute of Technology scientist said he had packed a new energy wallop into the pemmanic acid used in Admiral Byrd's Antarctic explorations—and made the old Indian trail food as tasty as something modern used to bake.

Back from recent explorations through the cook book, Dr. Robert S. Harris reported he had developed a new formula, giving more calories per ounce of the concentrated pemmanic than anything in that line that has yet hit the trail in polar regions.

The new pemmanic—three tons of which will be shipped for the Admiral and his men on their coming Antarctic trek—has the further advantage, Harris said, of being pre-cooked, and of having a "nicer flavor" than previous trial diets eaten by the adventurers.

To whip up a quick meal of pemmanic while they are sashaying over the ice far from their base camps, the explorers will simply place a cake of the stuff in some melted snow, and warm the mixture just enough to make it into a gruel-like dish.

Pre-cooking of the various ingredients, said Harris, would eliminate the need for carrying large supplies of cooking fuel on long treks.

"The pemmanic tastes like roast beef," smiled Harris.

Stole V.C. Medal From Dog Decorated For Bravery

A dog which ten years ago saved his master's life by subduing a ferocious wildcat in the northern wilds, for which he received a "V.C." medal and collar from the London, England, League of Kindness to Animals, is the victim of one of the meanest thefts ever perpetrated in Windsor, Ont. Some one "lifted" the medal.

"Blaze Thumtux", Labrador husky owned by G. T. Barton, customs official stationed at the Ambassador Bridge, is one of the 36 dogs in the world to be decorated for bravery with the canine "V.C."

Where Grass Grows High

Grasses in the Everglades, Florida, proposed as a national park, grow to heights taller than a man, the National Park Service reports. The Seminole Indians find many uses for these reedy species, those most familiar to tourists being in the form of baskets.

Some of the coal miners in Belgium work in levels 4,000 feet deep.

WEDDINGS

SANDERSON-SMITH

The marriage of a well-known Coleman couple took place at the United church on Saturday afternoon at 5 o'clock, when Cherry, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oswald Smith, became the bride of Mr. Lloyd Sanderson. Attendants were Miss Beverly Short and Mr. Tom Dunn. Rev. H. J. Bevan conducted.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father to the strains of the wedding march played by Miss Aloys Brown. She looked lovely in pink net over tulle with shoulder-length veil, with silver accessories, and carried a bouquet of white roses and fern. The bridesmaid was charming in a rose quilted satin dress with silver accessories, and carried a colonial bouquet.

During the signing of the register, Miss Isa Ramsay sang the old favorite, "I Love You Truly."

Following the ceremony, the party motored to the home of the bride's parents on Fourth Street, where the wedding supper was served. The table was centred with a handsome three-tiered cake. The toast to the bride was tendered by her grandfather, Mr. Dave Gillespie, and was responded to by the groom. Later in the evening, many friends gathered to wish the couple many years of health and married bliss.

Will Lonsbury of the Calgary Highlanders, was married in Calgary on Saturday to Miss Charlotte Spooner of Bellevue. No details of the wedding were available.

QUEEN ELIZABETH TO BROADCAST

Queen Elizabeth will broadcast a royal message on Remembrance Day (Saturday). It will be a five-minute address, and the time, though not definitely fixed, will likely be at 9 p.m.

As an indication of how interesting The Journal is to former Colemanites, a lady writing from Vancouver Island, Mrs. Phillips, states they look for it eagerly every Tuesday morning, and it is passed around to half a dozen others who lived here in earlier years.
